LEADERSHIP, 3rd edition is the most practical leadership textbook in the market, which makes key concepts immediately relevant with a unique three-legged approach: theory, application and development of skills. The authors cover all traditional theories along with cutting-edge themes in a brief presentation that focuses on key elements. Numerous and well-defined applications develop critical concept skills. To help make the concepts immediately relevant, numerous skills development exercises promote leadership that can be used in professional and personal life. This three-way approach provides the greatest range of learning opportunities, helping students focus on the most important. Robert N. Lussier is a professor of management at Springfield College and has been teaching management for more than 25 years. He has developed several innovative and widely copied methods of applying concepts and developing skills that can be used in personal and professional life. He was the founding director of the Israel Programs and taught courses in Israel. Other international experiences include Namibia and South Africa. Dr. Lussier is a prolific writer, with more than 235 publications to his credit. His articles have been published in the Journal of the Academy of Entrepreneurship, Business Horizons, Business Journal, Entrepreneurial Executive, Theory of Entrepreneurship and Practice, Business and Entrepreneurship Journal, Business Strategy Journal, Management Education Journal, Small Business Management Journal, Small Business Strategy Journal, SAM Advanced Management Journal, and others. When he is not writing, he advises a wide range of commercial and non-profit organizations. In fact, some of the materials in the book have been developed for clients such as Baystate Medical Center, Coca-Cola, Friendly Ice Cream, Institute of Financial Education, Mead, Monsanto, Smith Wesson, Social Security Administration, Nursing Visiting Assoc., and YMCAs. Dr. Lussier holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Salem State College, two master's degrees in business and education from the University of Suffolk, and a doctorate in management from the University of New Haven.
